

32 - 34

Meteo, Do you have time to help me organize the storage room? The construction crew's going to be starting renovation on the lobby next week. We need to make space to store the lobby furniture.

Actually, I know the plan is to replace those tables and chairs. Maybe we should just donate them now rather than putting them <sup>in</sup> storage.

Good idea. I'll do some research to see which organizations s accept donations s of furniture. I'm sure there are several in the area.

35 - 37

Hi Liam, we're really glad to have you join our team. harvest

The harvest season is our busiest.

I'm excited to get started.

Let me introduce you to Brian.

He will take you out to berry field for your training. Hi Liam. Here's a pair of gloves for you to use.

Thanks.

/straight /

The berry picking is really straightforward. But it's important that you get plenty of water and stay hydrated in this heat.

I brought a big bottle <sup>of it</sup> with me, so I should be fine.

↳ a big bottle of water

38 - 40

Welcome to my gardening podcast

I'm [ ] and today I'm here with [ ]. A botanist from university who recently develop a new hybrid flower.

Could you tell us more professor Lee?

Certainly, I developed a new type of rose. It's special because it blooms longer than any other rose.

That's interesting. Is it difficult to grow?

Not if it's planted under the right condition.

Next month, the rose will be featured at the botanical show downtown.

I hope your listener will come to see it

41 - 43.

So Divet, I think our employees

